

Great Himalaya Trail

Ethical Code

SustainGenix GmbH: Date: 01 September, 2025

Our company is committed to ethical practices.

The Great Himalaya Trail (SustainGenix GmbH) complies with all statutory norms as per European and International governing laws. As an Ethical and Responsible Company, we are registered by the German Government to conduct commercial transactions and enter into agreements with our GHT Partners, to which we add additional guidelines on safe and ethical tourism practices.

As per our commitment towards our ethical standards, we conduct our business in a manner that befits the culture and ethos of the rich and ancient Himalayan civilizations, and the tolerant and accommodating nature of their multicultural society and protects all individuals, especially women and children from all derogatory acts. We are committed to abide by Codes of Conduct in all operations and strongly encourage everyone we collaborate with to do the same.

We also recognize that every earth resource is finite and fragile, we are committed to fully implement sustainable practices, consistent with the best environment and heritage protection standards, that optimize both local community benefit and future sustainable uses.

We are following an ethical business strategy throughout our operations. We don't entertain any unethical elements as a part of our business, with our customers, suppliers, staff or anyone related to our business. We uphold the highest ethical business competition practices and support the entire tourism industry to do the same. We believe that better practices lead to a stronger, healthier tourism sector and happier, more content visitors. We maintain ethical business relationships with our GHT Partners and fully expect to have a long term association.

We will not entertain bribery, financial frauds or any such economic offences in our business. All our staff and management members are supposed to adhere to these strict ethical policies at all times.
